

EN RESORT
Grandeco

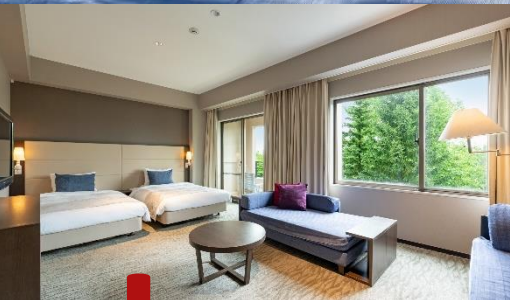

SKI & HOTEL

All Season Worthy International Resort!

Grandeco is located in the TOHOKU Region (North East of Japan), approximately 260 km north of Tokyo, Grandeco belongs to the BANDAI-ASAHI NATIONAL PARK (includes Mt. BANDAI, One of the most famous volcanoes in Japan) which is on all-season resort area. Lake INAWASHIRO (Japan's 4th largest lake) and many other smaller lakes make the BANDAI area ideal for fun activities.

Grandeco is the highest quality winter resort in the area. It has one gondola lift and four quad lifts all equipped with hoods which will take you up from 1,010 meters (3,314ft) to 1,590 meters (5,216ft) Snow conditions are excellent and skiing and snowboarding are possible until first of May.

Closest powder snow paradise from TOKYO!

This resort also features a long ski season, from late November to early May, offering various opportunities to enjoy snow activities such as a sleigh ride competition for children.

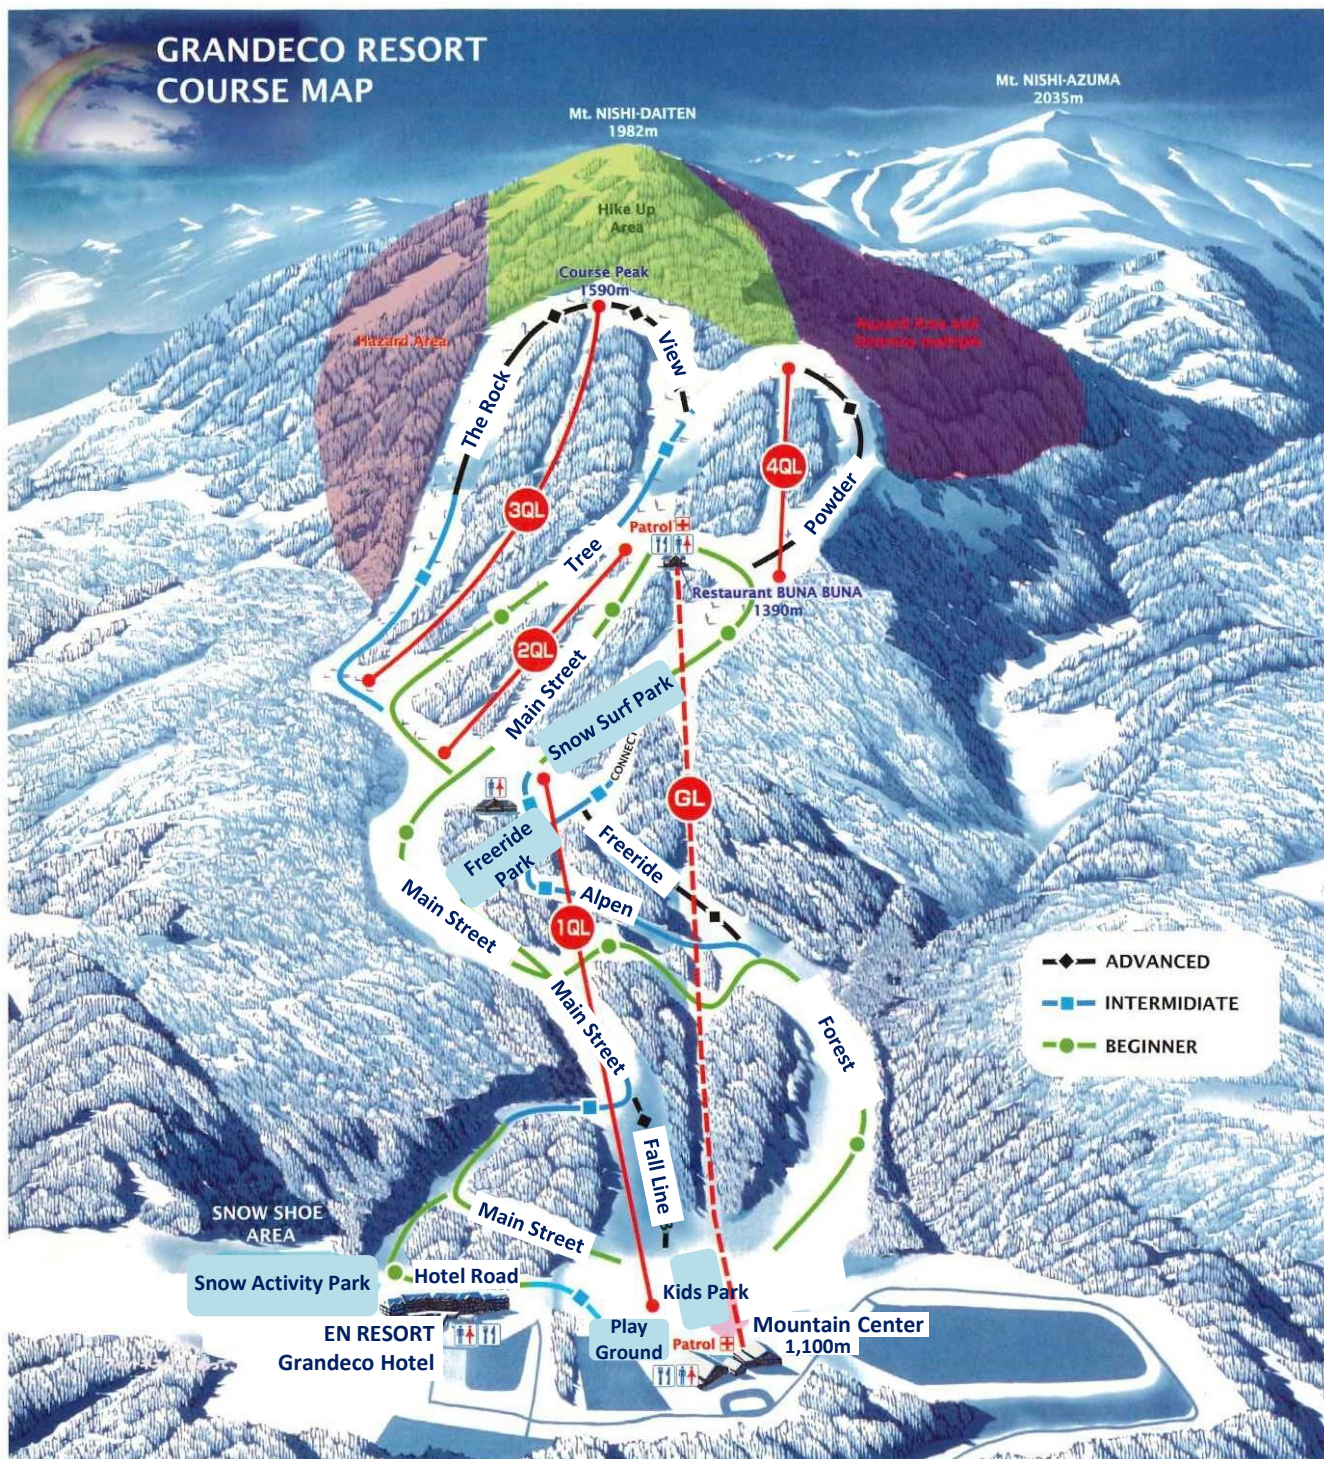

A short trip from TOKYO will take you to the greatest resort where you can enjoy amazing snow that is too powdery to even make a snowball. We call it “Kami-Yuki”, TGIP (Thanks God It’s Powder!). This snow paradise will also captivate you with the magnificent view of Mt. BANDAI.

Getting to Grandeco Resort

77minutes Tohoku shinkansen to Koriyama Station, 100mins bus from there or change to JR to Inawashiro Station 42mins & 35mins shuttle bus from there. By car use the Inawashiro Bandai Kogen exit off the Ban-Etsu expressway, and Route 115 to 459, 35 mins from the exit.

EN RESORT
Grandeco

Course guide

[Elevation]

Base elevation: 1,010meters (3,314ft)
 Summit elevation : 1,590 meters (5,216ft)
 Vertical rise: 580 meters (1,903ft)

[Number of courses] 10 courses / 5 parks

[Longest run] 4,000 meters (2.5 miles)

[Lifts] Gondolas : 1

Quad chairs with hoods : 4

[Gradient] Maximum : 33 degrees

[Night skiing] Not available

[Foreign language support] Available

[Terrain] Beginner 40%, Intermediate 45% , Advanced 15%

EN RESORT
 Grandeeco